The Secret of Getting Your Building Costs Down...

When you need a bid on a Mechanical Air Handling, Ventilating, or Air Conditioning System, go directly to the source that can give you the most competitive price and service – your SMACNA Air Handling Contractor.

With a SMACNA CONTRACTOR, you eliminate the third party markups and deal directly with those experienced, educated and capable of producing and installing an air handling system.

Separate Air Handling
Bids

- SMACNA CONTRACTORS customize the air handling system for your specific requirements.
- SMACNA CONTRACTORS provide shop drawings so other mechanical trades can properly install their work.
- SMACNA CONTRACTORS coordinate the assignment of other mechanical services without jeopardizing your control over separate bids.
- SMACNA CONTRACTORS are leaders in the field, continuously researching for better and more efficient ways to offer Mechanical Air Handling services.

SMACNA CONTRACTORS believe it is our responsibility to give our customers our most competitive price, performance, quality and efficiency. If that's what you need, give us a call.

INTRODUCTION

TIM CASAI, AIA
Editor, PLACE Magazine

Welcome to Place Magazine's second publication of the AIA Michigan Directory. We are pleased to bring this comprehensive document to you in a format that is easy to use and readily accessible. It is the intent of the AIA Michigan Board of Directors to offer to our membership and to our readers an up-to-date reference source for design services and professionals. We feel strongly that the architects found in this directory are the best and most qualified in Michigan.

We have designed this directory to be a ready reference document. We need your ideas as to the usability of the format. As with the first printing, we realize that the users of this directory will not be limited to architects and other designers. Clients and other construction professionals who use it are also encouraged to send us your thoughts and critiques. We really do want to serve your needs.

AIA Michigan is proud of the quality of our members and the work that they do. Please take a moment to examine the award winning projects, and to recognize the individuals honored in this issue. Because Michigan is fortunate to have a large and diverse construction environment, and because the quality of our design professionals is first rate, the projects that we feature in this issue are outstanding.

As we prepare this edition, the construction economy in Michigan is healthy and diverse. We sincerely hope that all clients who read this are working with an AIA Michigan architect who can expertly help them to realize their goals and to enhance the built environment. We believe that all architects who read this are actively serving the design and planning needs of the state's clients. It is a good time to work together for our mutual benefit. ▼

The Fireblocker

Specify Levy lightweight expanded slag masonry units and you give any structure the safety benefits of high-temperature fire resistance – with no significant increase in cost. And because they're so light, masons are able to lay more units every day, resulting in extremely high productivity with reduced labor and transport costs. So you end up with a more satisfied client.

- Expanded slag has a uniquely high fire rating – higher than any other masonry unit material
- Fire rating certified by Omega Point Laboratories, San Antonio, Texas (ASTM method E-119)
- 20% lighter than normal medium-weight block

Levy block is made from 100% expanded slag, a byproduct of steel production. So while its unique high strength and fire resistance are protecting your customer's investment, it is also helping to protect the environment.

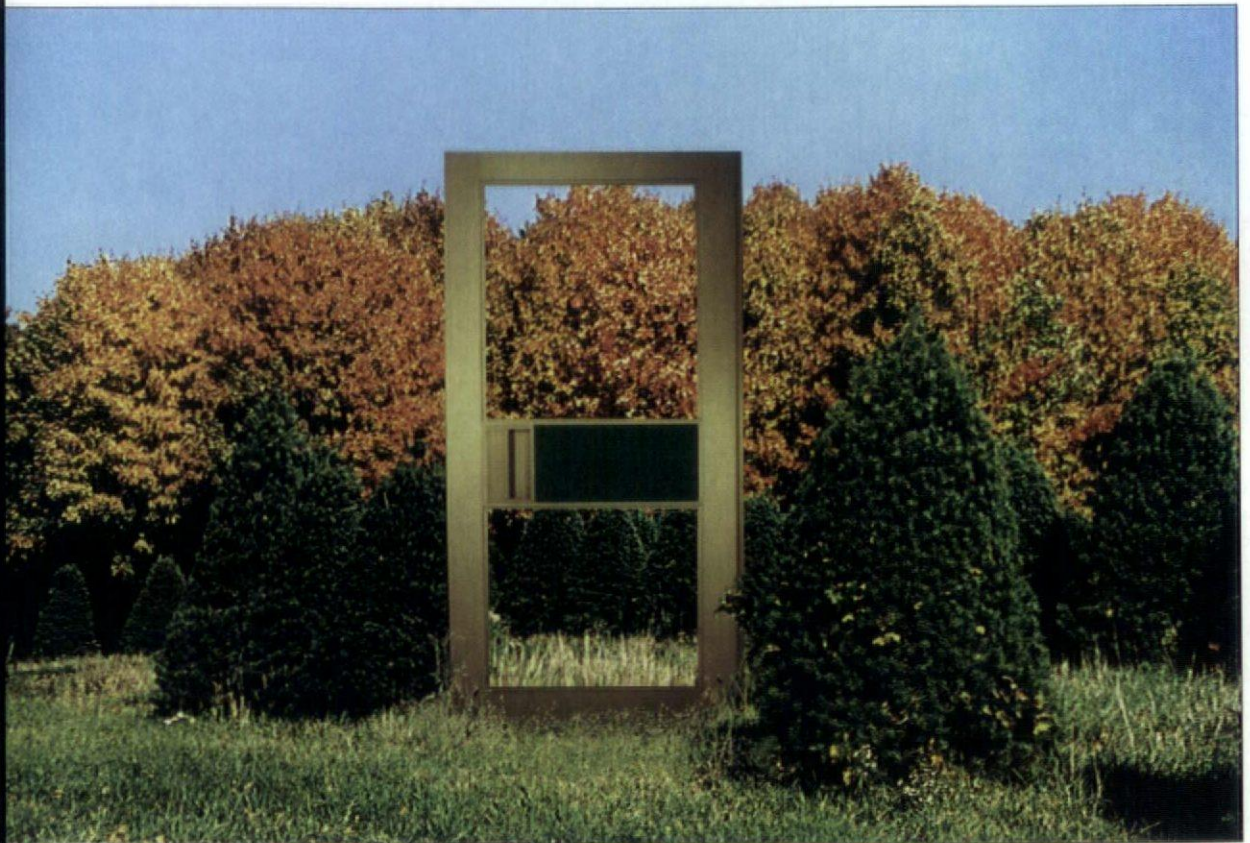

For more information, call the Levy sales department at (313) 843-7200, or write us at 8800 Dix Avenue, Detroit, MI 48209.

Inviting, Interesting Entrances

The SL-15 Wide Stile Champagne anodized aluminum door is a natural beauty.

Special-Lite has always known that a solid, durable entrance suggests that a solid, durable organization lives inside the building.

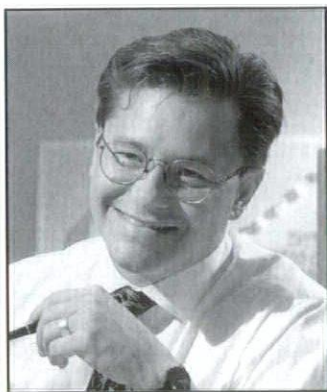

Lately, however, we've observed some architects who are going beyond solid and durable by designing entrances that are inviting...entrances that say "Come on in!"

Complete entrances built to your specification; so go ahead, be creative.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Arthur F. Smith, AIA
AIA Michigan President

AI A Michigan is composed of dedicated and active professionals who care immensely about the future of architecture. If you have been involved, you know what I am talking about and can see the results of our collective efforts. I applaud your participation. For those of you who have been less involved, I hope you are aware. You and your firm benefit from our legislative, professional and public awareness activities.

We believe that our education and training make us uniquely qualified to design buildings that protect the health, safety and welfare of the public. Our current mode of practice involves many diverse and highly trained consultants and contractors. If we can work together daily on successful projects, we can work out our legislative concerns.

With the assistance of our AELC (Architects and Engineers Legislative Council) partners, we have opened a dialogue with both the Home Builders Association of Michigan and the Coalition of Interior Design Registration (CIDR). Each of these organizations has many interests in common with the AIA, which can lead to collective participation on issues (e.g., continuing education, public awareness, self regulation, etc.)

AIA Michigan continues to offer valuable resources, programs and activities that benefit its members, their firms and the general public. We will all benefit from your involvement. Throughout the year there are many other programs and activities organized to provide educational, professional and social interaction. Please contact the local AIA board, the state board members, or the Beaubien House (313-965-4100) for information on upcoming events. Also, check the AIA Michigan Bulletin for a listing of future activities.

Participation in a volunteer organization is the life blood of its survival. We are constantly encouraging member involvement and new member recruitment. We need your support to maintain and expand our programs. Each of you can influence the participation of your colleagues. As licensed professionals, we need to encourage and support the interns and young practitioners. They are the future of our profession. With your help, there is no limit to what we can accomplish.

I appreciate the opportunity to serve as President. This experience has been extremely rewarding to me. We can look forward to the continued growth and influence of our organization as we forge stronger relationships in the construction industry. I am convinced that this will prove to be a positive impact upon our communities. ▼

AIA Michigan

A Society of The American Institute of Architects

AIA Michigan stands behind its members with a wide range of programs. AIA members are informed, involved and educated. AIA Michigan protects the architects' interests and practices. It aims to increase appreciation of the architect's contributions to the health, safety and welfare of the public. It is dedicated to providing the tools an architect needs to heighten efficiency and effectiveness.

OUR MISSION

The Mission of AIA Michigan is to organize and unite its members to continuously improve the profession. AIA works to enhance the architect's position as the leader of the building team and designer of the built environment. This goal is achieved through:

Public Advocacy - developing and disseminating policies that enhance the natural and built environment and by influencing legislation and regulatory policies that improves the effectiveness of the profession.

Education - promoting public awareness of the value of the profession; education of its members to a higher standard of practice; and education of students to the changing needs of the profession.

Fellowship - activities that promote interaction between the members, other allied professionals and the public.

OUR FOCUS

PUBLIC ADVOCACY - As the collective voice of the architectural profession in the state, AIA Michigan makes sure its concerns and interests are heard by key decision makers in Lansing and where architects work and live. Architects and their firms profit from AIA Michigan's diligent monitoring of all regulatory matters effecting the profession.

GOVERNMENT AFFAIRS - AIA Michigan made this its number one priority. A committee and a legislative counsel are working in Lansing to produce positive results for the profession. Ongoing activities include the monitoring of legislative issues for interior designers, landscape architects, homebuilders, and school construction.

COMMUNICATIONS - A plan has been developed to strengthen old building industry coalitions and to create new ones among all the members of the construction industry. Last year, a survey was conducted by a professional research team to survey the public's perception of the architect's role in safeguarding the health and safety of Michigan buildings.

AIA Michigan has a video that aims to raise the public's awareness of the value of hiring licensed architects. "Architectural Update" is available to legislators, community organizations, other special interest groups, and is sold for $9.95 plus shipping and handling.

Professional Licensure - Efforts to enforce licensing laws and prosecute unlicensed practitioners is an ongoing priority.

Minute Person Program - Every member's names is in a data base. AIA Michigan can contact its members immediately when assistance is required for crucial Legislative Alerts.

Qualifications-Based Selection (QBS) - A bill to promote and preserve this method for selection of architects for public projects has been written.

Professional Practice - Unlicensed activity is monitored upon notification by members.

Architects' Political Action Committee (APAC) - Funds are raised, separate from dues dollars, to support the campaigns of legislative candidates who understand the important role that architects play in creating a liveable environment for Michigan.

EDUCATION - AIA Michigan boosts the public's awareness and appreciation of the unique services and contributions that architects provide. The result of this effort is to enhance visibility and stature with clients and the community. AIA Michigan provides the information and tools necessary to compete in today's marketplace. Member can take advantage of an endless array of professional resources and technical materials at the lowest costs available.

Continuing Education - National AIA has made this a mandatory requirement for membership. AIA Michigan offers CE programs throughout the state to enable every architect to attain their CE credits.

Design Conference - Architects present their work in a relaxed, informal setting at Torch Lake each Fall. This conference is a forum for young architects and less well-known firms.

EXPO 97 - AIA Michigan has joined with several other organizations to sponsor the largest building industry show of its kind in Michigan at the Silverdome each February. More than 10,000 visitors took advantage of the exhibits at the 1997 show.

Intern Development Program (IDP) - AIA Michigan coordinates chapter activities and works with national AIA on this mandatory program.

FELLOWSHIP is an important part of AIA Michigan's mission. It promotes communication among architects. It provides an opportunity to place before the public examples of well designed and well-built places. It recognizes and encourages the unique talents of individuals.

Honor Awards - This 28-year-old program promotes Michigan architects by raising the public's awareness of design excellence.

Mid-Summer Conference - This family-oriented conference celebrates its 54th year on Mackinac Island in August. It is a major fundraiser. Engineers, contractors and vendors join architects on the island for meetings and fellowship.

Receptions - Two receptions are typically hosted each year, The Holiday Open House at the Beaubien House in December. The other was in April at the Alden Dow House for the newly elected members of the College of Fellows. These events are important social occasions that give members an opportunity to greet one another and to celebrate architecture.

Recognitions - The achievements of individual members are recognized through the AIA Michigan Gold Medal, the Hastings Award, the President's Award, the Young Architect Award, as well as Honorary Affiliate memberships.

SERVICES

Architect Referral - Firms and individuals calling AIA Michigan in search of an architect are handled on an individual basis. PLACEMAKERS is sent to them as a resource for licensed architects.

Auto Buying Service - The best price on a new car is available by calling 313-881-2700. Financing, discounts on rustproofing, auto alarms, accessories and a good price on trade-ins is also available.

BOCA Library - A resource library of building codes is retained in the Beaubien House through the AIA Detroit Building Codes and Regulations Committee.

BULLETIN - The newsletter, in its seventieth year, is a vehicle for internal communication and is mailed to all members.

CELLNET - A cost saving cellular phone program is offered through CELLNET.

Documents - AIA Michigan is a full-service distributor of contract documents, available at special prices to members. Beginning in 1997, members and nonmembers may order forms by credit card.

Insurance - In Michigan, special group rates on homeowners and auto insurance are available through Michigan Benefit

Plans, Inc. Information on the AIA Benefit Trust and professional liability insurance is available.

Job Referral - AIA Michigan keeps resumes on file and publishes want ads in the newsletter for architects seeking job opportunities.

Membership Directory - Published annually, the membership directory is included in Place magazine.

PLACE - The official magazine of AIA Michigan, is distributed quarterly to architects, clients, and public officials.

PLACEMAKERS is a directory of architectural firms. It is the primary source for referrals when a potential client calls the Beaubien House seeking an architect to meet their particular needs. It is published in the Directory issue of Place magazine.

PROFILE - The AIA Profile Directory of architectural firms and architects nationwide is available for use at the Beaubien House.

There is no CPI dues increase this year. Instead, the members voted to approve a dues restructuring plan that eliminates all supplemental dues, establishes a new single dues rate and offers first-time members a two-year membership for the price of one year.

MICHIGAN ARCHITECTURAL FOUNDATION

This nonprofit organization is dedicated to the support and continuing education of the profession through public outreach programs throughout the year.

REMEMBER . . .

Since 1887 in Michigan "AIA" after an architect's name means that this person is an honorable member of the American Institute of Architects. It is a proud tradition and the Continuing Education requirement makes it even more important in the 21st Century. ▼

What is AIA/CES?

The Continuing Education System (AIA/CES) was developed by the AIA to record professional learning. Ongoing professional learning is a mandatory requirement of architect membership that began in 1995. AIA now requires its members to earn 36 Learning Units (LU) annually. A third of the Learning Units are to be earned in the area of health, safety and welfare. The CES is dedicated to creating a strong profession. It identifies AIA members as architects who seek the highest level of knowledge and achievement. We believe that this is the best way to assure continuation of the trust that society gives architects.

AIA/CES MAKES SENSE

There are several very good reasons why this AIA/CES initiative makes sense, as follows:

- 1) It improves the value of AIA membership
- 2) It increases participation by members in local chapter activities
- 3) It coordinates and is compatible with the continuing education programs of other associations and with state licensing boards
- 4) It generates much higher quality continuing education programs with increased access and affordability for AIA members.

AIA/CES differs from other continuing education programs in two important ways: AIA/CES is based on the latest findings on how adults learn - specifically architects. It is primarily self-directed, and recognizes learning with or without the help of formal educational resources.

AIA/CES is qualitatively based, not quantitative. It recognizes three learning levels - passive, interactive, and interactive with feedback.

CES IN MICHIGAN

Accessible and affordable are the keys to AIA/CES effectiveness. Programs like the highly successful Health Facilities Planning Seminar (now in its 31st year) are an excellent way for architects to satisfy the AIA/CES requirements. It is sponsored annually by MAF, AIA Michigan and Michigan Department of Public Health. Participants receive valuable information for use in daily practice and meet client representatives at the same time. The cost is very affordable. AIA Michigan has modeled other programs on this format to provide a wide variety of continuing education opportunities.

Many sources, in addition to local chapter and firms, are looking to provide these opportunities as well. They include universities, institutions, other nonprofit associations, and various retail providers of architectural continuing education. ▼

DECRO-FACE®

Sandblasted Profile Concrete Masonry Units

"Creating classic looks with advanced technology"

The Decro-Face process harnesses the raw power of sandblasting to achieve a uniform natural texture on unit concrete surfaces.

Our greatly expanded selection of aggregate and color options allow you to create and achieve the look you want.

The capability to apply the Decro-Face process to any shape made—from bond beam to bullnose, half-high units to brick and even paving stones—removes the usual restraints on creative and structural design.

The Decro-Face story is one of an entire new line of products: Decro-Face Profile CMU's, Decro-Pavers™, Decro-Brick™ and Decro-Graphics™. For a Decro-Face Designer's Kit or more information, please contact us.

Michigan Architectural Foundation

Michigan Architectural Foundation

On behalf of the Board of Trustees, I wish to thank all of the supporters and contributors to the Michigan Architectural Foundation. With this support, MAF grows stronger every year. We continue to expand our activities and programs in accordance with the mission statement.

The Foundation will provide the quality of effort required to benefit architecture, architects, the public and the building industry.

MISSION STATEMENT

The purpose of the Michigan Architectural Foundation, in support of AIA Michigan, is to carry on educational, scientific and charitable activities that advance the quality of architecture and its allied arts. To that end the mission of the Foundation is to give financial support and assistance to programs that:

- Stimulate public awareness of the aesthetic and scientific value of architecture

A grant award of $750 was made to AIA Southwest Michigan to save ink-on-linen drawings of historic lighthouses. The linens will be on display at the South Haven Maritime Museum.

Provided funds to support and co-sponsor the 1996 Michigan Historic Preservation Network conference. Richard Moe, President of the National Trust for Historic Preservation was the keynote speaker. The conference had the largest attendance of any historic preservation conference in Michigan in 1996.

Co-sponsored the 1996 Honor Awards Program and Supports "Place" magazine.

- Advance the science and art of planning and building through research and education

Michigan High School Design Competition, under the direction of James Shane, AIA, attracted high school students across the state. Jeff Hausman, AIA of SHG, and Phil Lundwall, FAIA of Progressive Architecture, helped to develop the program. Scholarships were awarded to the winners funded by the Foundation and other contributors.

The second Presidents' Golf Outing was held at Eastern Michigan University Golf and Conference Center. The goal of the Presidents' Scholarship Fund is an endowment of $50,000, the income to be used for several scholarships.

- Unite the public, the profession, and the construction industry in a common effort to insure the quality of life through an improved natural and built environment

Sponsored a series of successful seminars and conferences including: The 29th annual Health Facilities Planning Conference

The fourth annual Education Facilities Planning Conference.

Co-sponsor of the AIA/Michigan Society of Planning Officials Assembly

- Promote the preservation of historic sites and buildings

The Foundation actively solicits funds and is seeking support from members of the profession, allied arts, the construction industries and all those who see their lives affected by architecture and the environment. ▼

Alan Cobb, AIA
Chair of the Government
Affairs Committee

Government Affairs

1997 Mission Statement

The Government Affairs Committee is to develop, implement, coordinate and expedite an annual comprehensive, and pro-active plan for all government/public affairs for review and approval of the AIA Michigan Board of Directors and the membership.

An important focus for 1997 will be the building of coalitions. This will involve a coordinated plan to identify important organizations with similar or opposing views, and develop negotiated agreements on issues affecting AIA Michigan architects.

Short History

Since the Mid-1980's, architects in Michigan have been inundated with legislation effecting the health, safety and welfare of the public, our licensing law, and the practice of architecture. Through the efforts of many diligent volunteers great progress has been made, providing architects in the state a voice in Lansing. The following time line provides an overview of our progress.

Mid-1980's: Architects and Engineers Legislative Committee (AELC) is created and we hire a lobbyist (Cawthorn, McCullough & Cavanagh)

- Reactive to Legislation
- Chapter Practice Committees are created
- Vocal Complaints: Unlicensed Practice is the main issue
- Joint Task Force: Self-Regulation

- State Informs AIA Michigan: No Longer Enforce Unlicensed Practice
- Interior Design Licensing Committee/ Practice Bill Introduced

1991: First AIA Michigan Government Affairs Committee is created:

- Major Introduction of Legislation Effecting Architectural Practice

1992: Members Petition: 500 Members Vote to Take Action!

- Reconstituted Government Affairs Committee
- Goals: Self-Regulation
- Continuing Education
- Class One Architects Board

1993: Government Affairs Summit:

- Decisions: Seek Standing
- Introduce Legislation for Enforcement
- Membership Support of GA through Assessment
- $100,000 GAC Budget
- Hire Legal Counsel
- Expand Lobbyists Duties
- Architectural Update Video/Brochure
- Introduce House Bill 4787
- Fund Special AG
- A coalition with Builders/Withdraw SB330
- Settle Single Family SF Requirements
- Support HB 5100, Standing to Seek Injunctions
- Interior Design Practice Act Introduced
- Negotiations with Interior Designers over Title

1994: Long Range Plan Meeting with Chapters:

- Public Awareness/Government Affairs Priority
- AIAM Board Passes Resolution to Create Legal Fund
- HB5100 Passed into PA400, Confused Language

1995: Seek AG Opinion about PA400 Language:

- SB656 Introduced:
Severe Attack on Architects and Engineers by Homebuilders, Building Designers, Mechanical and Electrical Contractors
- Board Votes to seek Case Law Using PA400
- Positive AG Opinion Received
- AIAM Safety Survey/Media Campaign
- Board votes to Seek Injunction on Unlicensed Practitioners
- Four Unlicensed Practitioners Sued

1996: AIA Michigan Wins All Four Cases Against Unlicensed Designers:

- SB656 Continues to be an issue, meetings with homebuilders are problematic
- Through much effort SB656 is held in committee
- Square Footage Limits for contractors on single family residential is highlighted as an issue to be addressed in 1997

Four pro-active task groups make up the committee and deal with issues of importance. The Professional Practice Task Force is a group that works directly with regional chapters and helps to develop close relationships with the building officials across the state, as well as the State Board of Licensing.

Our Professional Licensing Task Force has been responsible for the enforcement of our licensing law, where the State of Michigan Officials have refused to act due to budget cuts. Four cases have been decided in favor of the architect using Public Act #400.

All legislation that could effect the design profession is reviewed by the Legislative Task Force. Through this task force, AIA Michigan can create new legislation that can benefit the profession. Our legislative counselors, Dennis Cawthorne Esq., and Jim Cavanagh, Esq., are funded through this group and through our efforts on the Architects and Engineers Legislative Committee (AELC).

The fourth Task Group is created to build coalitions and to develop, implement and maintain an effective communications program for public education, legislative action, and professional awareness. This program will support our objectives to acquaint, inform, and influence the public, the media, and governmental and educational entities in Michigan. It will promote the vital role Architects perform in planning and shaping the world in which we live, adding significant value to the design and construction process; and providing expert guidance and problem-solving abilities for all facets of the built environment. ▼

AIA Michigan Gold Medal

Leslie D. Tincknell, FAIA
1995 Gold Medal

David Osler, FAIA
1996 Gold Medal

Leo "Jerry" Shea, FAIA
1997 Gold Medal

The Gold Medal is the highest honor that the architectural profession can bestow upon one of its members. The medal is awarded to an architect who has clearly demonstrated distinguished leadership in any phase of the profession over an extended period of time. The award is made in recognition of notable contributions to the AIA and outstanding achievement in one or more areas of professional endeavor. No more than one award will be granted in one year.

Leslie D. Tincknell, FAIA 1995 GOLD MEDAL

Les Tincknell of Saginaw received AIA Michigan's highest individual honor -The Gold Medal during a ceremony on October 21, 1995 at the Van Andel Museum Center of the Public Museum of Grand Rapids. Tincknell's career clearly demonstrates notable contributions to AIA and he has demonstrated outstanding achievements in his practice of architecture.

After the war in Korea, Tincknell began his professional career, at what has become Wigen Tincknell Meyer and Associates in Saginaw, more than 35 years ago. He started as a senior designer and became chairman of the board. His firm has won several design awards from AIA Saginaw Valley and received both the national AIA and Michigan Honor Award for the Michigan State Capitol. His passion for preservation led to a partnership in the renovated historic Montague Inn of Saginaw.

His volunteer career with AIA Saginaw Valley began in 1961 as secretary and quickly moved through the local and state officer positions. He served as AIA Michigan president in 1974. He is now president of the Michigan Architectural Foundation. He has also served on several national committees of the American Institute of Architects.

His service to his community is extensive. He presided over the Saginaw Optimist Club, the First Congregational Church and the University of Michigan College of Architecture and Urban Planning Alumni Boards. He has been director, trustee or committee member of the Saginaw Art Museum, Symphony Orchestra, Community Hospital Foundation, American Red Cross, and the Chamber of Commerce. He taught at Lawrence Technological Institute.

David Osler, FAIA, 1996 GOLD MEDAL

David Osler's fifty year architectural career is noted for his principled architectural problem solving and for his consistently high standards of design excellence. His view of the practice of architecture is rooted in the traditional value of service; the desire to participate in all facets of design and to shape the final decisions. This is in part why he was awarded the AIA Michigan Gold Medal.

Following graduation from the University of Michigan in 1942, service on three ships of the U.S. Navy, including the first wave of the Normandy landing at Omaha Beach, he returned home in 1946 to marry Constance Lorch and pursue his career in architecture. His earliest commissions were for renovations and custom residences. Recognition and publicity soon followed with a 1958 Award of Merit from House and Home Magazine. Custom houses led to a broad and diversified practice. In recent years, he received an Award of Excellence from the national American Institute of Architects/American Library Association for the design of the Howell Carnegie District Library renovation and addition.

Numerous local and national publication have featured his work, including Architectural Record, Progressive Architecture, Forum, Inland Architect, Garden Design, Nikkei Architecture and L'Industria Delle Costruzioni. Mr. Osler was elevated to the AIA College of Fellows in 1981, a lifetime honor bestowed for design excellence and contributions to the profession.

He has demonstrated an enduring commitment to education. In 1978 he was appointed an Adjunct Professor in the U-M School of Architecture. He is an inspiration to his students. He is a frequent guest lecturer, visiting critic and jury member at U of M, Harvard University and Lawrence Technological University. His students have gone on to teach and to assume key roles in other design oriented offices.

His community activities include the board of the Washtenaw Historical Commission and the Washtenaw Historical Society. His outspoken concern regarding the visual quality of the built environment led to other public appointments, including Ann Arbor's Sign Ordinance Review Board and the Washtenaw Metropolitan Planning Commission where he was a member for nine years. Mr. Osler has been president of AIA Huron Valley and secretary of the state society of the American Institute of Architects. For three years he served on the National Committee on Design. Other affiliations include the U of M "M" Club and the Ann Arbor Rotary Club.

An early mentor was his father-in-law, Emil Lorch, FAIA, founder of the U-M School of Architecture who served as its Dean for 30 years. The noted architect, George Grant Elmslie who was associated with Louis Sullivan, was Mrs. Osler's uncle. This strong architectural heritage provided inspiration for Osler's career. The Osler's three children have pursued careers in interior design, art and architecture. The legacy continues.

Leo (Jerry) Shea, FAIA, 1997 GOLD MEDAL

Leo (Jerry) Shea, a Fellow of the American Institute of Architects, earned the 1997 Gold Medal. He is vice president of operations of Kughn Enterprises in Farmington. Shea's expertise in program and feasibility study preparation, master facilities studies and project management and implementation has been instrumental in the success of many types of projects including destination resort hotels/conference centers, retail, educational, commercial office, healthcare, laboratory, correctional and airport facilities.

His 44-year architectural career is noted for his dedication to increasing the quality of urban life through excellence in city planning and urban design. Civic organizations and governmental leaders have benefited from Shea's broad vision and general concern for the environment and the quality of life it supports. Through Shea's efforts and leadership, the AIA Detroit Chapter Urban Priorities Committee has placed architects in a position to positively impact urban problems. Shea played a key role in presenting AIA Detroit's perspective to Mayor Dennis Archer's Land Use Task Force.

Jerry Shea's contributions to the profession at local, state and national levels are significant. As well as serving the Detroit Chapter as president, past president and director, he is credited with a variety of committee positions.

On the national level, Shea has lectured extensively on practice-related topics and on the AIA standard contract documents. He chaired the AIA National Documents Board in the 1970s, and authored AIA's Handbook of Professional Practice, Chapter on General Conditions, which essentially explains the basic ground rules for the construction industry in the United States. He continues to work on documents-related issues. Shea has also contributed chapters to three architectural practice books by Louis G. Redstone, FAIA.

Shea was elevated to the AIA College of Fellows in 1978, a lifetime distinction bestowed for design excellence and contributions to the profession. In 1985 he received AIA Detroit's prestigious Gold Medal and in 1992 he was honored with the inaugural AIA Michigan President's Award. Shea's commitment to the urban environment earned him the AIA Detroit Charles A. Blessing Award in 1994.

Shea has served on the board of numerous community organizations, including the Birmingham-Bloomfield Art Association. He currently chairs the AIA Detroit Urban Priorities Committee, and is a member of the City of Detroit Site Plan Review Task Force and the U of D-Mercy Detroit Collaborative Design Center advisory board.

Following graduation in 1951 from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute with a bachelor's degree in architecture, Shea attended US Marine Corps company officers basic course and Army's engineer school, then served with the First Marine Division in Korea as Engineer Platoon Leader. He returned home in 1953 to launch his architectural career with a Chicago firm and pursue an MBA from the University of Chicago. Shea married Patty Dunshee in 1959 and moved to the Detroit area in 1961. They have five grown children and five grandchildren. ▼

AIA created the College of Fellows in 1922. Fellowship is one of the highest honors that the architectural profession can bestow on one of its members. There are five categories where the individual achievements of the architect are recognized. AIA elevates Fellows before the public and the profession as model architects who have made significant contributions to architecture and society on a national level. These categories reflect the AIA's founding objectives.

- To promote the aesthetic, scientific and practical efficiency of the profession
- To advance the science and art of planning and buildings by advancing the standards of architectural education, training and practice
- To coordinate the building industry and the profession of architecture
- To ensure the advancement of the living standards of people through their improved environment

AIA Michigan recently saw five of its own elected to Fellowship. Arnold Mikon, Leslie Tincknell and Steve Whitney were inducted in 1996 at the national convention in Minneapolis.

David Evans and Eugene Hopkins, both of Ann Arbor, were advanced to Fellowship at the AIA National Convention in New Orleans.

Arnold Mikon, FAIA is Chairman, President and Chief Executive Officer of SHG Associates, Inc. Under Mikon, SHG has grown to become the third largest A/E practice in the United States. He has been Director, Treasurer, Vice President and President of AIA Detroit. He has a bachelor of architecture and a master of business administration from the University of Michigan.

Leslie Tincknell, FAIA was Chairman of the Board of Wigen, Tincknell, Meyer & Associates, Inc. in Saginaw. His firm has received many honors, most recently the 1996 AIA Design Honor Award for its participation in the restoration of the Michigan State Capitol building. In 1995, AIA Michigan awarded him the Gold Medal. He is president of the Michigan Architectural Foundation, Vice Chair of the Saginaw County Red Cross, and Secretary of the Historical Society. He was an adjunct faculty member at Lawrence Technological University. Tincknell holds a bachelor of architecture from the University of Michigan.

Stephen Whitney, FAIA is Vice President and Director of Health Care Services at Albert

Kahn Associates. His experience in health care architecture spans over 25 years. One of his most significant projects at AKA is the $210 million dollar University of Michigan Hospital. Whitney's involvement with AIA has been substantial, culminating in 1992 when he became AIA Michigan President. His commitment to education and training led to an AIA's national "IDP Firm of the Year Award" for AKA in 1994. He is a graduate of the University of Minnesota with a bachelor of arts in architecture and a bachelor of architecture.

David Evans, FAIA is a principal and executive vice president of Quinn Evans/Architects and is the director of the firm's Ann Arbor office. He is extremely active in preservation, both on a local and national level. Currently, he is the president of the Michigan Historic Preservation Review Board. Evans is an adjunct assistant professor at the University of Michigan where he earned his bachelor of science degree in architecture and a masters of architecture with high distinction. He lectures widely on preservation issues.

Eugene Hopkins, FAIA is president of Architects Four, an Ann Arbor firm specializing in the practice of historic preservation. His work is seen in some of the nation's most notable places. The Smithsonian, the Library of Congress, the Michigan State Capitol and the Grand Hotel are all landmark buildings. Another U of M graduate, Hopkins has a B.S. and M.A. in architecture with high distinction. Both AIA Michigan and AIA Huron Valley have benefited from his leadership.

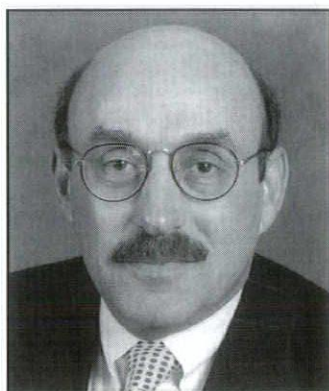

Less than 2,000 AIA members have attained fellowship out of a total membership of over 58,000. The following Michigan members, past and present, have attained fellowship: ▼

AIA Michigan
1997 Hastings Award

Robert Hastings was a distinguished Detroit architect who served as National president of AIA. When he died in 1978, the Hastings Award was created in his memory. Hastings was one of the city of Detroit's staunchest advocates when he was president of Smith Hinchman and Grylls. He carried the torch for livable cities when he went to Washington to head the national AIA. He was committed to improving the quality of the urban environment. "As architects, we are committed to making a more habitable environment for every man, woman, and child in our society. And to accomplish this, architects must participate in those decisions - economic, political, social - that shape the environment", he said. He believed that architects had a unique set of values that could benefit the community at large. Recipients of this award are individuals who exemplify his views and have made a significant contribution to the improvement of architecture. Daniel Redstone, AIA; Harold R. Varner, FAIA; and Nelson Nave, AIA are the Hastings Award recipients for 1995, 1996 and 1997 respectively.

DANIEL REDSTONE, AIA

Like Hastings, Dan Redstone believes that the architect's and the public's welfare is best served when the profession actively engages in the political process.

Since 1984 he has been urging his fellow architects to become involved in the political arena. He worked to invigorate the Architects Engineers Legislative Committee. He is chair of the Michigan Board of Architects and was architect representative to the Board of Engineers.

Redstone has held all of the major offices in AIA Detroit and was on the board of AIA Michigan. His list of civic participation includes the Business Consortium for the Arts, United Way, Southfield Chamber of Commerce and the Bloomfield Hills School District Cost Reduction Committee.

Redstone is a principal at Redstone + Tiseo Architects in Southfield. He has a Bachelor of Architecture and Master's Degree of Business Administration from the University of Michigan.

HAROLD VARNER, FAIA

Harold Varner, FAIA served fifteen years on the State of Michigan Boards of Architects and Engineers. For several of those years, he was the chair of each board. During his tenure, Varner was instrumental in forming the state's requirements for the Intern Development Program. He was particularly concerned about the problems that minorities and women might have in gaining the experience requirements for IDP. The Intern Development Program was developed to improve the quality of the built environment by upgrading the training and education of architects.

Varner is President & Chief Operating Officer of Sim-Varner and Associates. His firm designed the expansion of the Cobo Hall.

His true love lies in solving community problems. He has used his knowledge of community needs, concerns and aspirations to guide professional teams toward solutions which better the quality of life in the city.

He became a member of AIA Detroit and AIA Michigan in 1968 and has served on a number of important committees and task forces. In 1979 he was elected to the College of Fellows. He also is a member of New Detroit, Inc. and serves on the task force on Detroit Public School Vocational/Technical Centers. He earned his B. S. in Architecture from Lawrence Technological University.

facing the neighborhoods immediately north of the city center.

Currently, Nave and others are working to restructure and revitalize an entire city block for business and residential property. He is also involved in efforts to preserve the historic Kalamazoo Mall.

Owner of his own firm since 1988, Nave's gallery of projects includes retail, educational, medical, commercial and institutional work with an emphasis on renovation and restoration. Some recent projects include renovation of 15 apartments "On the Mall", Kalamazoo Nature Center Renovation and Addition, Visiting Nurses Association Restoration, Mt. Zion Baptist Church Addition, Kraft Brau Micro Brewery, Bell's Brewery Addition, Vine Neighborhood Master Plan, West Main Hilltop Shops Planning Study and Arcadia Creek Development.

A graduate of Ball State University College of Architecture and Planning, Nave began his architectural career in 1971. He is a registered architect in Michigan and Indiana. A member of AIA Michigan since 1976, Nave currently serves as a member of the Urban Design Committee of AIA National. He is a past president of the Southwest Michigan Chapter.

He is also a member of the Kalamazoo Area Council for the Humanities, Arcadia Creek Urban Design Committee and "Save The Mall" Committee. ▼

NELSON NAVE, AIA

Nelson Nave, AIA is a Kalamazoo architect who has developed his practice around preservation and renovation of urban properties. His projects, over the past ten years, have significantly contributed to redevelopment of Kalamazoo. In addition, Nave has successfully battled initiatives which would have demolished core areas of the city and has worked to redevelop those areas.

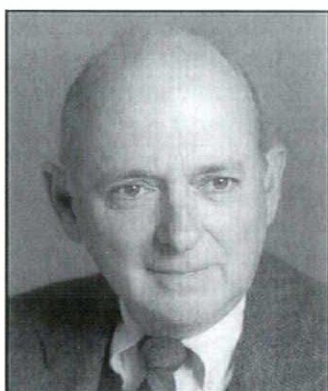

In the early 1980's, Nave saw the devastation of fine old sections of the city core if a proposed out of scale overpass was constructed. As president of the "Citizens for Responsible Rail Consolidation and Urban Development Efforts" he led the community group that defeated the rail project. Today, that area is becoming one of the finer public spaces of the city core.

Also in the early 1980's, Nave was instrumental in bringing nationally known architects together to brainstorm and develop solutions for downtown Kalamazoo. He followed it with a similar forum in 1984 focusing on issues

President's Award

The President's Award was created in 1992 to honor architects in the education and corporate field who have made exceptional contributions to the profession and their community through academia or business. Architects in the corporate field have a broad influence on the built environment either by the number or size of the projects under their direction. In education, their influence is on the architectural students that the school produces

1995 PRESIDENT'S AWARD

Kingsbury Marzolf, AIA

Professor Marzolf has been inspiring architects with a love of history and an understanding of the importance of travel since he began teaching at the University of Michigan in 1963.

His passion for architectural history and cross cultural experiences have been crucial to architectural education for 32 years.

He brings to the classroom an enthusiasm for history which many students find irresistible. Over the years he has seen a large number of obscure, but important monuments of architecture in Europe so that he could provide first-hand knowledge about them in the classroom.

As a lecturer and member of many preservation organizations his influence is felt from the Ore Docks of Escanaba to Marshall and on Grand Rapids' Heritage Hill District. As a member of AIA's Urban Growth Policy Committee he was part of a process that led to the historic designation of an important area of Grand Rapids. He has worked in Michigan, Washington and Copenhagen as an architect.

In his role as an ambassador for AIA Michigan and for the University, Marzolf has been host to hundreds of foreign faculty and students. When they leave the area, they take with them an appreciation of our American culture and hospitality and a thorough knowledge of the architecture of the area.

1996 PRESIDENT'S AWARD

Robert F. Fearon, AIA

Bob Fearon has ties to both spheres, education and corporation. For 30 years, he served as Director of Design and Construction for the Bell System. In 1987 he joined the faculty of Lawrence Technological University where he is a Senior Lecturer and a full time faculty member in the College of Architecture and Design.

During his tenure at Michigan Bell he strove to elevate the quality of the design of corporate buildings throughout Michigan. Many of the projects built under his supervision were award winners including the Northwest Office Center by Smith, Hinchman and Grylls and Michigan Bell-Troy Somerset by Ellis/Naeyaert. While at AT&T International, he directed consultant services for all aspects of the building, planning, design and construction for major AT&T clients. At Lawrence, he chaired the feasibility analysis for a new College of Architecture and Design building and is the coordinator for the Intern Development Program.

He is a past officer and director of AIA Michigan and was the co-founder and national chairperson of the Corporate Architects Committee for AIA. He has served on various professional juries and boards, including the Governor's Special Commission on Architecture.

He is a graduate of the University of Detroit and did graduate work in horticultural science at Oakland University. He has authored several articles that have appeared in national publications and has been a featured speaker and panelist at numerous seminars and conferences.

1997 PRESIDENT'S AWARD

Joseph Derkowski, AIA

Joseph Derkowski's non-traditional career path as a corporate architect has had a broad influence on the built environment because of the size and scope of the projects under his direction. As vice president of planning and engineering for Ford Motor Land Development Company, he is responsible for the planning and physical formulation of Ford's facilities globally as well as land development programs worldwide.

Derkowski's high level of architectural excellence in development projects is notable. It includes the diverse and nationally-recognized 2,360-acre Fairlane Community in Dearborn, the largest urban development in the United States. He was also present at the birth of the Renaissance Center, a project credited with saving downtown Detroit.

He joined Ford Motor Company in 1963 as an architect with the plant engineering staff and became associated with Ford Land upon its inception in 1971. He has been involved with virtually all of its development projects. In 1965, he became vice president.

His civic contributions include the board of the Dearborn Downtown Development Authority. He is an AIA member and has earned his certification from the National Council of Architectural Registrations Boards.

Derkowski has a Bachelor's degree in architecture from the University of Detroit. He and his wife live in Livonia. ▼

Young Architect of the Year

Cynthia Enzer-Radecki, AIA
1995 AIA Michigan
Young Architect of the Year

William Jay Hartman, AIA
1996 AIA Michigan
Young Architect of the Year

This award recognizes proficiency and exceptional accomplishments in and contributions to the profession by an architect who has been a member of AIA-MI for a minimum of three years and is 40 years old or younger. The first award was given in 1991.

YEAR	NAME
1991	Carl Roehling, AIA
1992	Eugene Hopkins, AIA
1993	No Award Program
1994	Arthur F. Smith, AIA
1995	Cynthia Enzer-Radecki, AIA
1996	William Hartman, AIA
1997	None

Cynthia Enzer-Radecki has been an active member of AIA since her graduation from the University of Michigan. She has a particular interest in the education of young architects and has been a champion for the Intern Development Program (IDP). She was AIA Michigan's State Coordinator for three years. She brought national attention to Michigan through her presentations in Washington. She has been responsible for building a very strong relationship between AIA Michigan and the Michigan Board of Registration for Architects on issues pertaining to initial registration and architectural education.

She had the privilege of serving on the 1992 AIA Honor Awards Jury. She was the first person from Michigan to serve on the jury in many years. She participated in the rule changes that were required in the Michigan Barrier Free Design Code by the Americans With Disabilities Act.

William Jay Hartman, AIA is the 1996 AIA Michigan Young Architect of the Year. He is Lead Designer with Gensler Associates. Prior to that he was V P and Director of Design at Smith, Hinchman & Grylls Associates in Detroit. He has received numerous awards, been published in journals and has had his work exhibited.

Hartman has been honored a number of times including a listing as a "40 and Under" Business Leader by Crain's Detroit, AIA Detroit 1995 Young Architect and he was a Burnham Prize Finalist of the Chicago Architectural Club. He received a National Endowment for the Arts Presidential Design Achievement Award in 1996.

In addition to AIA, Hartman is a member of the Engineering Society of Detroit, the Detroit Club, Cranbrook Art Academy Museum and the Detroit Institute of Arts where he is a board member of the Founders Society Friends of Modern Art.

He is active in the community, particularly with universities, arts organizations, and the City of Detroit. He has lectured frequently, served on symposia panels and juries, been a studio critic and organized inner-city cleanup/fixup events. He received both his Masters of Architecture and Bachelors of Science from the University of Michigan and has done postgraduate architectural research in Vicenza, Italy. ▼

Honorary Affiliate Members

Honorary Affiliate membership has a long tradition in Michigan's architectural community. Julius Melcher was named in 1897. Then Lt. Governor Milliken was chosen in 1967 and Helen Milliken made the list in 1972. Honorary Affiliate membership is bestowed on persons who are not otherwise eligible for AIA membership. The list includes artists, writers, politicians and a variety of other people who have made significant contributions to architecture.

Senator John Joseph Henry Schwarz M.D. was first elected to the Michigan Senate in 1986. He was elected President Pro Tempore in 1992 and served on the Senate Appropriations Committee, Senate Health Policy and Senior Citizen Committee. His work on the Michigan Capitol Committee is of particular interest to architects. He guided the building's historic restoration during its last two year(1991-92) as Chair. Senator Schwarz was a staunch defender of the restoration. He forcefully insisted that the Capitol's Preservation program be carried through to completion even during a lean economic time.

Dennis O. Cawthorne, Esq. has served as Legislative Council to AIA Michigan for nearly a decade. He is chair of the Mackinac Island Park Commission which recently celebrated its 100th Anniversary. He has provided leadership and guidance for the society's efforts to protect the health and safety of Michigan citizens by working to guarantee the enforcement of the licensing laws.

The awards for 1995 were presented on October 20th at the Van Andel Center Museum in Grand Rapids.

Leon Bonnici, Senior Marketing Consultant for MichCon Gas Company, is well known in the architectural community. His enthusiasm and energy have played a big part in the success of AIA Michigan's Mid Summer Conference that has been held on Mackinac Island for the past 53 years.

Bonnici began his career at MichCon in 1954 as mail boy. He is past president of the Construction Products Manufacturers Council and the Producers Council of Michigan.

He is married and a father of five children. He lives in Livonia and works in Ypsilanti and is active in many church and civic groups. He saw service in the U.S. Army in a hospital laboratory.

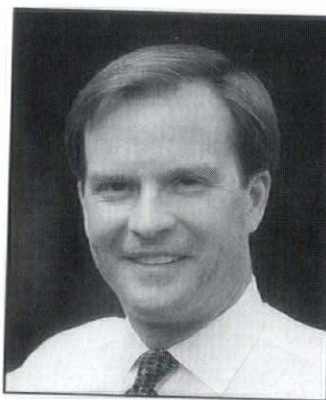

Cathy Mosley is the Financial/Business Manager for AIA Michigan/Detroit. She has been with the Society for seventeen years. In that time, she has developed and implemented a number of successful operational procedures that have enhanced the goal of AIA Michigan to improve the quality and safety of the built environment.

Her efforts and computer skills have made AIA Michigan one of the most successful AIA components in the country.

GARY QUESADA

Photographer Gary Quesada has served architects through his photography for seventeen years. His photos have graced the covers of numerous magazines including Architectural Record, Building Design and Construction, Contract Design, Inland Architect, Urban Land, Place Magazine and Michigan Living.

A resident of Royal Oak, Quesada is a Renaissance Man. He has both a bachelor's degree in economics from the University of Michigan and a law degree from Wayne State University. His love of photography triumphed. He worked more than 16 years with world-renowned architectural photographer Balthazar Korab. He is currently with Hedrich-Blessing Photographers in Clawson.

SENATOR BILL SCHUETTE

Senator Bill Schuette, from Michigan's 35th district, has been a strong supporter of the architectural profession and its role in protecting the health, safety and welfare of the public.

Schuette heads both the Economic Development and International Trade and Regulatory Affairs committees. He is vice chair of the Technology and Energy Committee and is a member of the Gaming and Casino Oversight Committee.

Schuette's commitment to public service began in 1984 when he was elected to the US House of Representatives. He served three terms in Congress, then in 1991 he was named director of the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

Schuette is a member of the Midland-based law firm of Currie & Kendall PC, which provides a variety of legal services. He serves on the board of the United Way of Midland County, and is a member of the National Advisory Committee to the University of Michigan College of Engineering and the Visiting Committee of the Gerald R. Ford Institute at Albion College.

The Midland native graduated cum laude from Georgetown University with a bachelor's degree in Foreign Service. He earned a law degree from the University of San Francisco. He is married and father of two children. ▼

1995 Design Honor Awards

Eight projects were honored for design excellence in three categories . . . Building, Interiors, Low Budget/Small Project. The Firm Award for 1995 went to Albert Kahn Associates for "consistently producing distinguished architecture through the collaboration of related architectural disciplines."

A jury of five architects from AIA Iowa chaired, by Kate Schwennsen, AIA, convened in De Moines to select the 8 award-winning projects from among 73 submitted by architectural firms from around the state. Arthur Smith, AIA, presented the award plaques at the AIA Michigan Honor Awards Program on October 20, 1995, at the new Van Andel Museum Center of the Public Museum of Grand Rapids. Smith is the chair of the committee that organized the Design Awards Program.

BUILDING AWARD

COLLEGE OF LAW ADDITION/RENOVATION Columbus, Ohio

The Ohio State University, Owner

Design Architect: Gunnar Birkerts and Associates, Inc.
Birmingham, Michigan

Project Architect: NBBJ, Columbus, Ohio

"A rare example of a building that, by its placement and form, creates a series of neighboring exterior spaces, and yet maintains a powerful presence of its own."

The Ohio State University College of Law was an undistinguished but solidly-built facility that was constructed in two phases in 1958 and 1959. Following Gunnar Birkerts addition and renovation, the new building forms an important marker announcing the southeast corner of the campus. The building alludes to the existing campus vernacular and uses the prevailing palette of materials.

BUILDING AWARD

SEASONS, A CENTER FOR RENEWAL Kalamazoo, Michigan

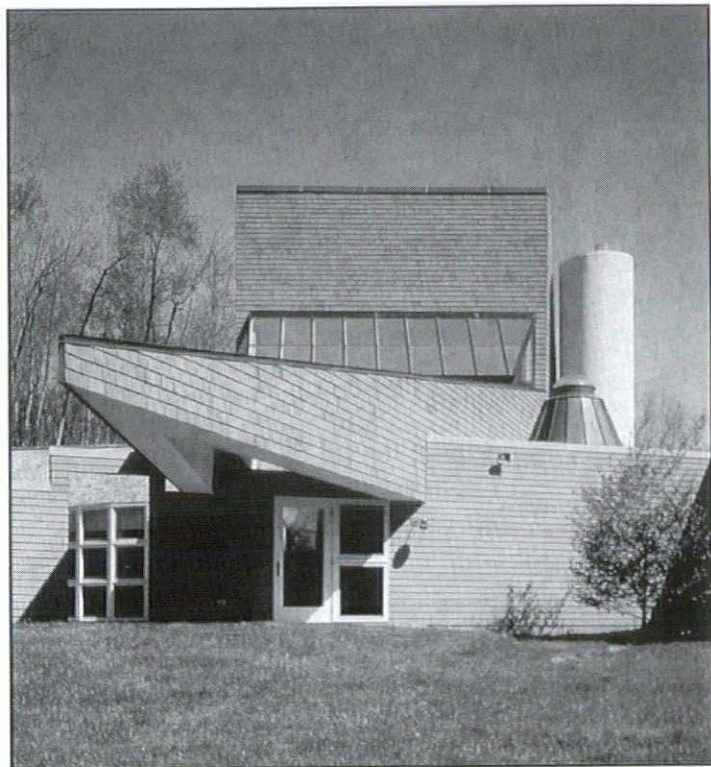

John E. Fetzer Institute, Owner

Architect: Harley Ellington Design
Southfield, Michigan

"A building that is not afraid to question convention through the celebration of materiality, detail, and inhabitation."

Seasons, a Center for Renewal is sited on a steeply sloping hill, descending toward a small inland lake. It is surrounded by a mature forest. Bisecting the site is a peninsular ridge, reaching out toward the lake. Harley Ellington Design set the buildings into the land, detached, to minimize the disruption of the forest. Limestone, copper and wood were selected because they are noble materials that will age gracefully.

BUILDING AWARD

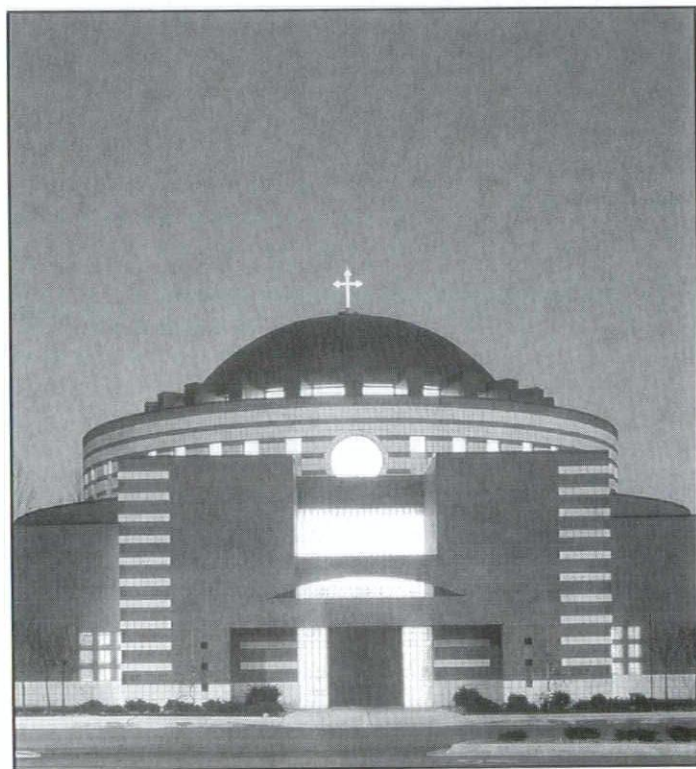

PRIVATE RESIDENCE

Northfield Township, Michigan

Architect: Kenneth Neumann/Joel Smith and Associates
Southfield, Michigan

"A strong, simple courtyard plan diagram allows a virtuoso display of eccentricity."

The hobby of the owners, showing bull mastiff dogs, was the impetus for Kenneth Neumann/Joel Smith and Associates to design a kennel, connected and almost equal in size, to a House In Northfield Township. The house is arranged into three units; the kennels, the main house and a guest/service wing. The group of buildings is tied together by a circulation spine, a rusty red wall becoming a crushed stone front entry courtyard.

BUILDING AWARD

ST. NICHOLAS GREEK ORTHODOX CHURCH

Troy, Michigan

Architect: Constantine George Pappas, AIA
Architecture and Planning
Troy, Michigan

"An incredible interior sanctuary with great contrast between the sparse white volumes and rich iconography."

Future expansion was an important consideration for Constantine George Pappas, AIA in the design of the St. Nicholas Greek Orthodox Church in Troy. The complex consists of a series of functional space modules connected by a glazed corridor system. Inspired by Hagia Sophia in Constantinople, the dome captures the true essence of Byzantine Architecture. It allows natural light to fill the sanctuary space creating the mystical appearance of the dome floating.

BUILDING AWARD

TOWNSEND PARK TOWNHOMES

Birmingham, Michigan

Tamlin Development Corporation, Owner

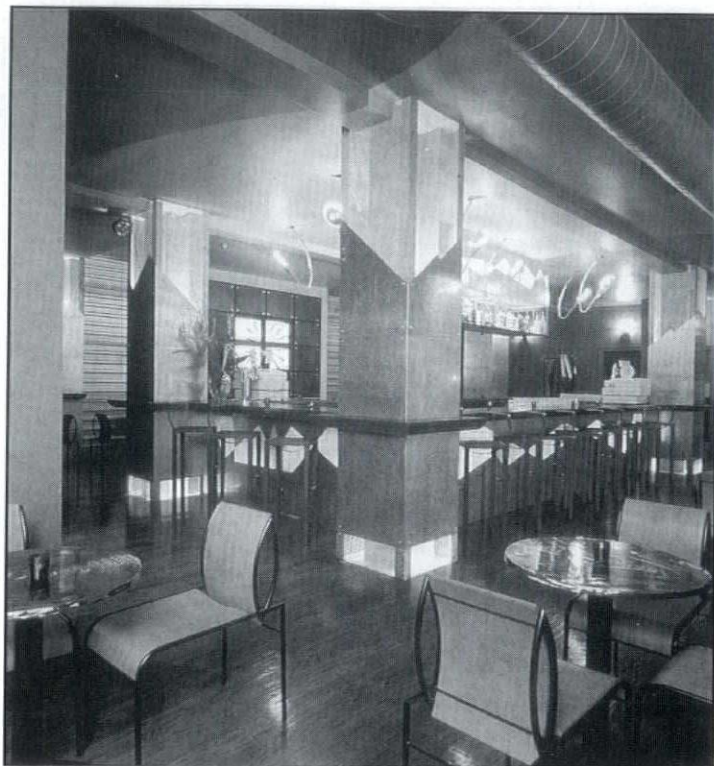

Architect: Studio Pellegrina, PC

Glenda Meads, AIA, Bloomfield Hills, Michigan

Preliminary Conceptual Design: Christopher Longe, AIA
Birmingham, Michigan

"A thoughtful, timeless project that could be repeated 50 times and would result in a livable urbane city. A project that does not try to dominate, but instead, adds to the city in a quiet, responsible, meticulously crafted manner."

The Townsend Park Townhomes is an urban infill project that bridges a single family residential neighborhood and the adjacent commercial center. The preliminary conceptual design was by Christopher Longe, AIA and the architect of record is Glenda Meads, AIA of Studio Pellegrina. Everything about the design; the relationship of sidewalk, lanterns, steps, porch, and entry, extend the concept of bridging the urban experience to the scale of human habitation.

INTERIOR AWARD

INDUSTRY

Pontiac, Michigan

National Entertainment Corporation, Owner

Architect: Victor Saroki & Associates, PC
Birmingham, Michigan

"Sophisticated funk, intended for entertainment and mood enhancement with consistent attention to materials and detailing."

Victor Saroki & Associates, PC took an abandoned 1930's theater and created a nightclub called Industry. They sliced through its walls, floors and ceilings to expose structure, sky and innards. The old facade and canopy are dramatically reconfigured. Spaces are established with machine shop materials and details reminiscent of the factory. Imported light fixtures designed by Santiago Miranda and Masimo Iosa Ghini lend form as well as illumination.

LOW BUDGET/ SMALL PROJECT

KORACHIS RESIDENCE

Grosse Pointe Park, Michigan

Mr. John Korachis, Owner

Original Architect, 1934: Alden B. Dow, FAIA

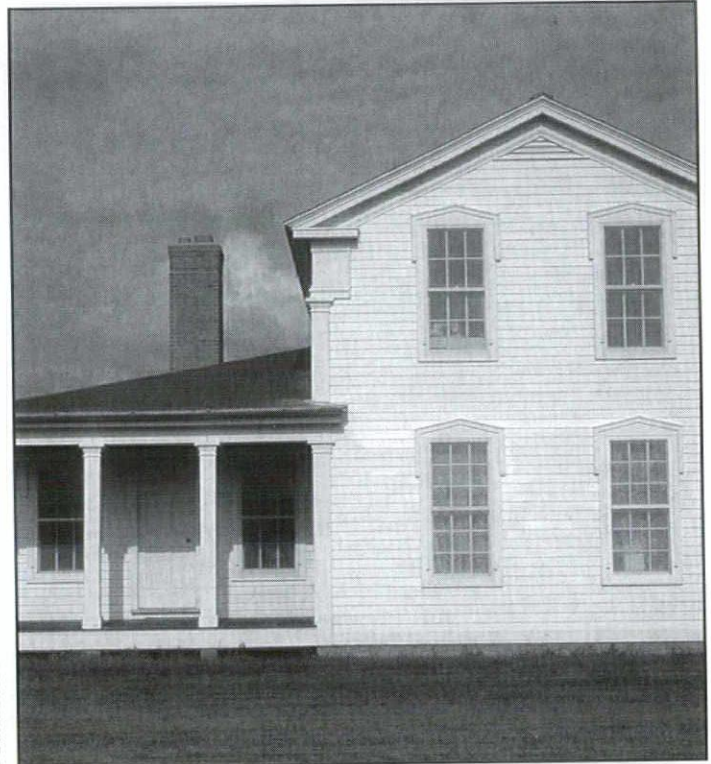

Architect: Constantine George Pappas AIA

Architecture and Planning

Troy, Michigan

"The seamlessness and simplicity of this project is evidence of tremendous respect and diligent study."

By adding a new dining and entertainment section to the Korachis Residence, Constantine George Pappas AIA captured the essence of Alden Dow's 1934 effort. Conceptually, Dow's design defines interior space through a clear series of wall planes. The wall planes are separated at the corners by clear glass or glass blocks. The new addition uses the concept of separating wall planes and expands upon it by separating the roof plane as well. The solution effectively fills the room with filtered natural light, as Dow had intended.

EASUDES RESIDENCE

Chelsea, Michigan

Steve and Anna Easudes, Owners

Architect: Rueter Associates Architects

Ann Arbor, Michigan

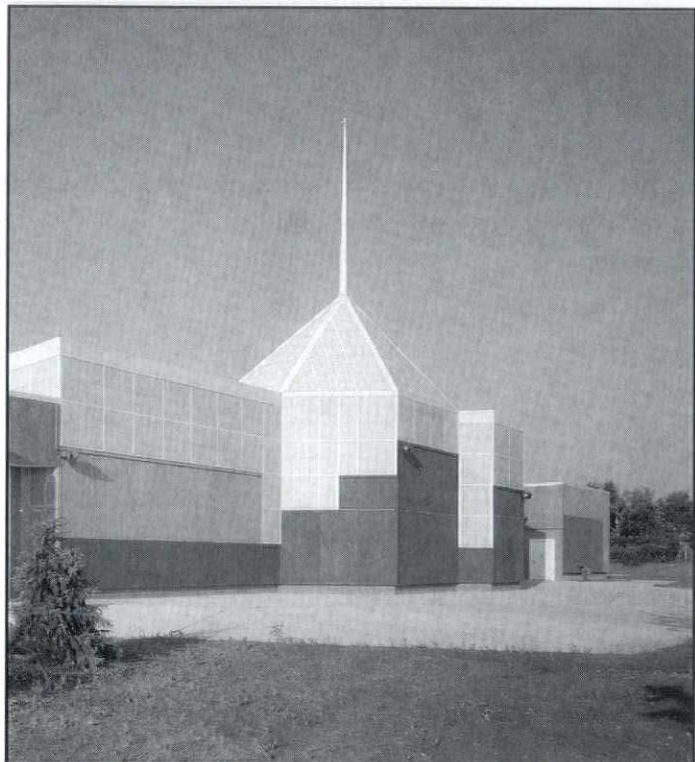

"The wonderful imagery of this project exhibits intelligence, conviction and sensitivity."

The owners wanted to create an intimate rural farmstead so Rueter Associates Architects visited over 20 Greek Revival homesteads and studied the drawings of the Plymouth House from the Henry Ford Archives. The Easudes House is white and silhouetted by a red barn and a giant field oak. The story and a half main house has a hipped roof side wing which is common to Midwest Greek Revival. The rooms are simple and well lit with deep windows.

1996 Design Honor Awards

If greatness comes from adversity, good design begins with a problem to be solved. The Michigan architects singled out for design honors by a jury from St. Louis certainly had their work cut out for them. Each of the four winning building projects, two interior architecture projects and both of the twenty-five year award buildings are unique. AIA Michigan organizes and sponsors design competitions in order to present concrete examples of good design to the general public and to honor and encourage the architects who produce it.

Sixty-one projects were submitted for 1996. The jury panel in St. Louis was organized by Gene Mackey, FAIA who served as its chair. Arthur Smith, AIA, Chair of the Honors Committee and Tom Mathison, AIA, 1996 President of AIA Michigan made the presentations.

BUILDING AWARD CATEGORY

Architect: Gunnar Birkerts and Associates
292 Harmon Street
Birmingham, MI 48009

Project: Church of the Servant
Kentwood, Michigan

"A fresh approach that really fits its environment. It is a consistently detailed sophisticated building with a bold plan."

The Church of the Servant in Kentwood, Michigan was commissioned by a Protestant congregation who wished to "dignify the ordinary" in all things. Using ordinary standard building materials, Gunnar Birkerts and Associates, Inc. from Birmingham created an awe inspiring place of worship.

BUILDING AWARD CATEGORY

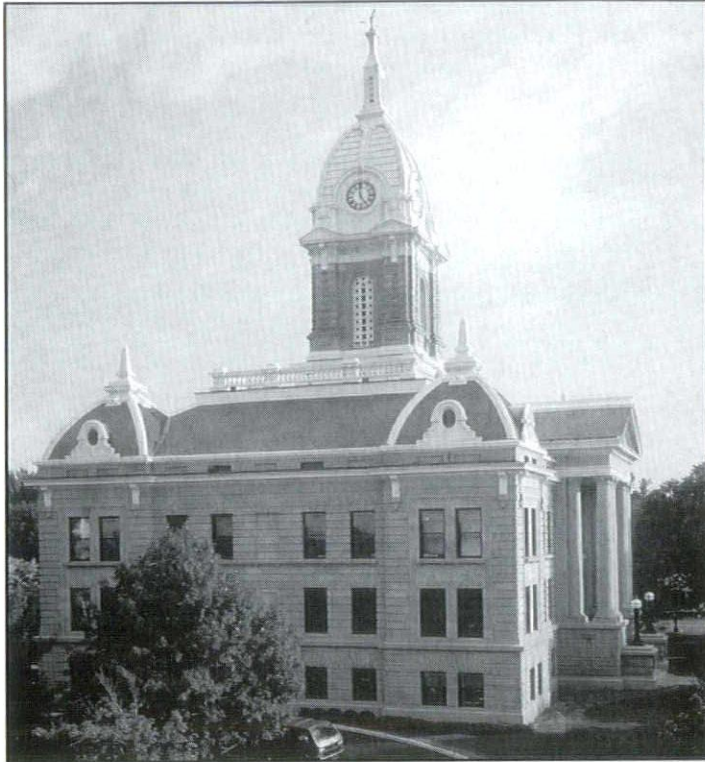

Architect: Albert Kahn Associates, Inc.
7430 Second Avenue, Suite 700
Detroit, MI 48202-2798

Building: BMW Manufacturing Corporation Plant
Spartanburg, South Carolina

"This is a bold form with consistent detailing sense and rhythm of building form. Day and night, water and light are all in harmony."

Albert Kahn Associates faced the daunting challenge for a building that would live up to their own tradition of innovative industrial design and BMW Corporation's reputation for precision. A "C" shaped visitor's center faces I-85 in Spartanburg, South Carolina and produces a dramatic image for the cars that speed down the highway.

BUILDING AWARD CATEGORY

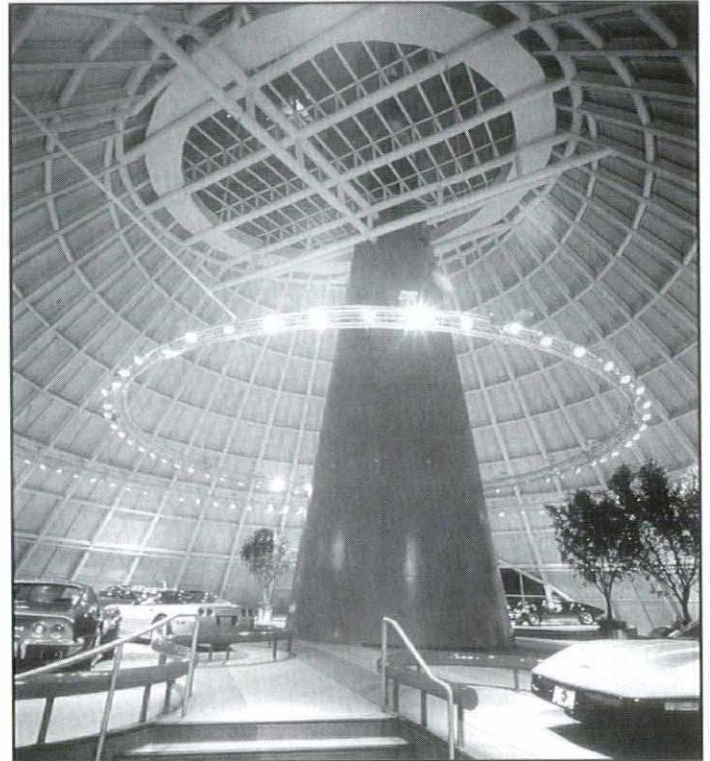

Architect: Wigen, Tincknell, Meyer & Associates, Inc.
1647 South Washington Avenue
Saginaw, Michigan 48601

Original Architect: Edwin A. Bowd (1865-1940)
Lansing, Michigan (Born in England)

Project: Rehabilitation of the Ingham County Courthouse
Mason, Michigan

"This is clearly a labor of love and community pride. An important historic building has been saved, restored, renewed. Bravo!"

Good planning, patience and perseverance were required from Wigen, Tincknell, Meyer and Associates, Inc, the Saginaw architectural firm that received an award for the rehabilitation of the Ingham County Courthouse in Mason, Michigan. The project began sixteen years ago. Commissioners came and went. Each election produced a different client face. It is a credit to both the architects and the county officials that they were able to stick with the original master plan. The result is stunning. The county has a state-of-the art building housed in a National Register Historic Site.

BUILDING AWARD CATEGORY

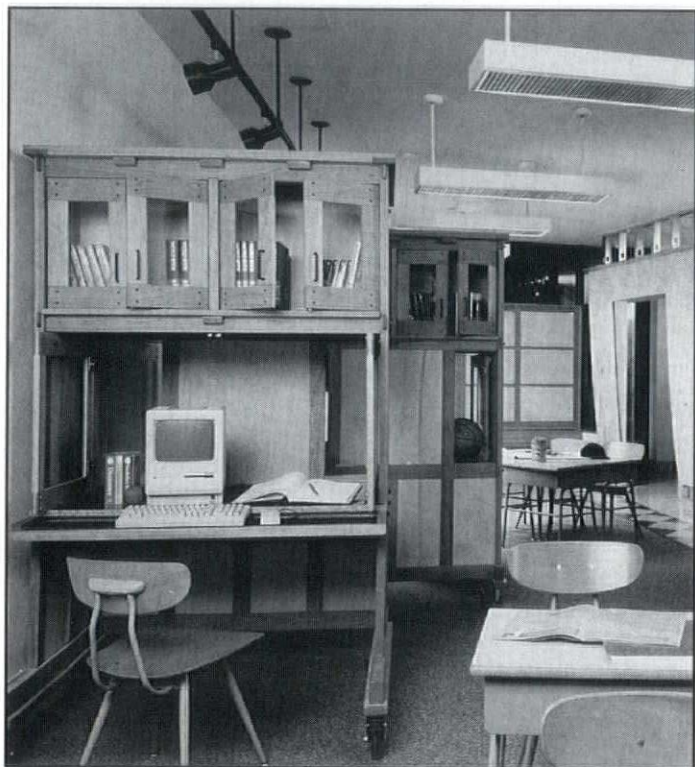

Architect: Kenneth Neumann/Joel Smith Associates, Inc.
400 Galleria Office Center #555
Southfield, Michigan 48034

Project: The National Corvette Museum
Bowling Green, Kentucky

"Eye catching, colorful, sleek, in motion, the museum and its site are one—totally consistent, masterfully detailed, a tour de force."

Kenneth Neumann/Joel Smith Associates, Inc. faced an ambitious program for a museum for a beloved American icon, the Corvette, and a budget made up of contributions from car buffs. One hundred and twelve dollars per square foot puts this project on the very low end of the scale for museum design. The humble budget doesn't show. Its eyepopping bold colors and silhouette is now a land mark along the interstate near Bowling Green, Kentucky.

INTERIORS AWARDS

Architect: Detroit Collaborative Design Center
Eric K. Daniels, Architect
401 West McNichols Road, P. O. Box 19900
Detroit, Michigan 48219-0900

Project: St. Ignatius Academy
Hunts Point Avenue, Bronx, New York

"A modest budget, strong organizing ideas, flexible space and appropriate detail result in a very nice project."

Two very different firms with two vastly different projects took home awards in the Interiors Category. St. Ignatius Academy in the Bronx is a small Jesuit junior highschool. The project was submitted by Terrence Curry, a Jesuit architect at the University of Detroit-Mercy. It was designed by the Detroit Collaborative Design Center in collaboration with Eric Daniels. The architects, builders and students all played a hands-on role in the award winning result.

INTERIORS AWARDS

Architect: Fuller Nichols Architects
297 West Lake Street Box #156
Harbor Springs, Michigan 49740

Project: Circuit Controls Corporation
New Plant & Office Expansion, Petosky, Michigan

"This is a sophisticated interior. The lobby is particularly well handled. There is a restrained use of materials with both artificial and natural light. Excellent!"

The other winner in the Interiors Category was Fuller Nichols Architects, AIA from Harbor Springs, Michigan who completely revamped the administrative offices of the Circuit Controls Corporation. One of the major challenges was to do the job in a year while the plant was operating on a 24 hour per day schedule. The result is well detailed, carefully thought out and elegant.

1996 Design Honor Awards

The Twenty-five Year Award was created to honor architects who produced buildings that have withstood the test of time. Diligent maintenance and respect on the part of the owners for the original use, intent and design of the projects played a significant role in the continued success of both of these award winners. The buildings must still be used for the purpose for which they were designed.

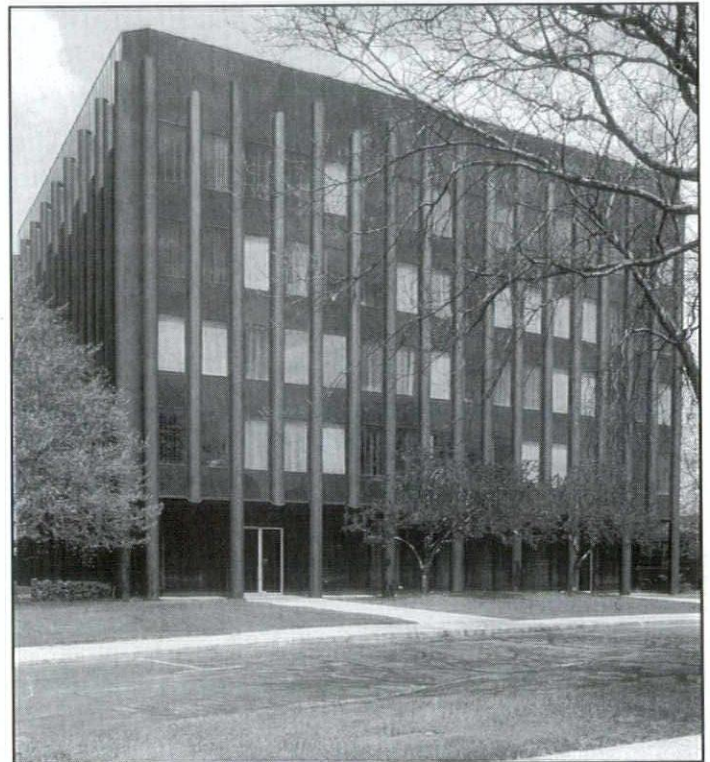

TWENTY-FIVE YEAR AWARD

Architect: Luckenbach/Ziegelman and Partners, Inc.
115 West Brown Street
Birmingham, MI 48009-6019

Project: Beacon Hill
Southfield, Michigan

Luckenbach/Ziegelman and Partners of Birmingham designed Beacon Hill, a medical office complex, in 1970 for Gilbert Silverman, David Hermelin and Jay Robinson. The cedar siding, a cost saving choice at the time it was put on, has weathered beautifully. The interiors are essentially unchanged. The building has been adapted without altering its original form and still meets the changing needs of its tenants.

TWENTY-FIVE YEAR AWARD

Architect: Kessler Associates, Inc.
409 East Jefferson Avenue, Suite 600
Detroit, MI 48226

Project: Bundy Tubing
Warren, Michigan

The second Twenty-five Year Award goes to Kessler Associates, the Detroit architectural firm that designed Bundy Tubing in Warren for the Bundy Corporation. Thanks to careful detailing, the limited corrosion steel exterior has developed an attractive patina. The Knoll furniture, chosen by the architect, is still in place and has achieved a cult status with collectors on the east and west coast.

1997 Design Honor Awards

Each of the four winning building projects, two interior architecture projects and the low budget/small project, are unique. Yet all strive for harmony with their surroundings. Two of the projects will also receive special recognition for steel design excellence and innovation.

Seventy-five projects were submitted in 1997. The jury panel in Boston was organized by Peter Rose, who served as its chair. Arthur Smith, AIA, president of the AIA Michigan and chair of the Honors Committee, gave out the awards on April 19 during AIA Michigan's resurrected Spring Convention at the Midland Center for the Arts.

BUILDING AWARD CATEGORY

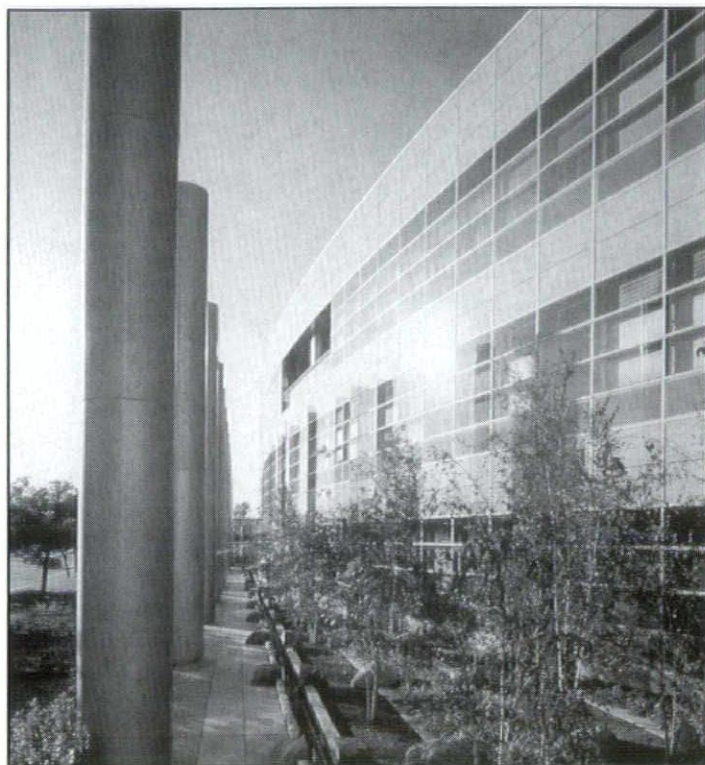

Architect: Luckenbach/Ziegelman and Partners, Inc.
115 West Brown Street
Birmingham, MI 48009

Project: Mountain Residence
Avon, Colorado

"Well-sited, grand in its space and scale, and in its vocabulary well-suited to its rocky mountain environment."

A Colorado residence designed by Luckenbach/Ziegelman & Partners, Inc. from Birmingham is separated into three pavilions with a similar profile that fit naturally into the mountain setting. The architects created a sense of place that reflects the spirit and character of the Rocky Mountains. The free span roof creates a powerful structural expression. It is supported by clustered wood columns, reminiscent of the aspens in and around the site.

1997 Design Honor Awards

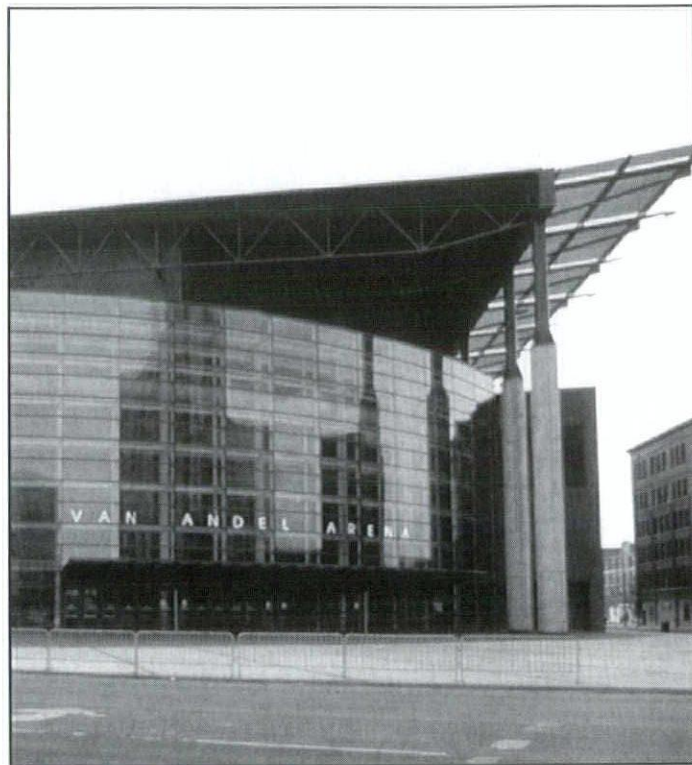

BUILDING AWARD CATEGORY

Architect: Rossetti Associates Architects;
and Swinerton & Walberg (Calif.)
280 N. Woodward Ave., Suite 300
Birmingham, MI 48009

Project: Sunrider International Corporate Headquarters
Torrance, California

"A strong and sensible plan with strategically deployed use of materials and light. An appropriately powerful statement and identity for a corporate headquarters in a suburban location."

Sunrider International, a California health products manufacturer, wanted an international headquarters that reflected a strong corporate image. Adding value to the urban area in which it is located was another important criteria. Rossetti successfully incorporated Asian design philosophy and images to produce a facility with a rich cultural heritage that enhances the surrounding community.

BUILDING AWARD CATEGORY STEEL AWARD

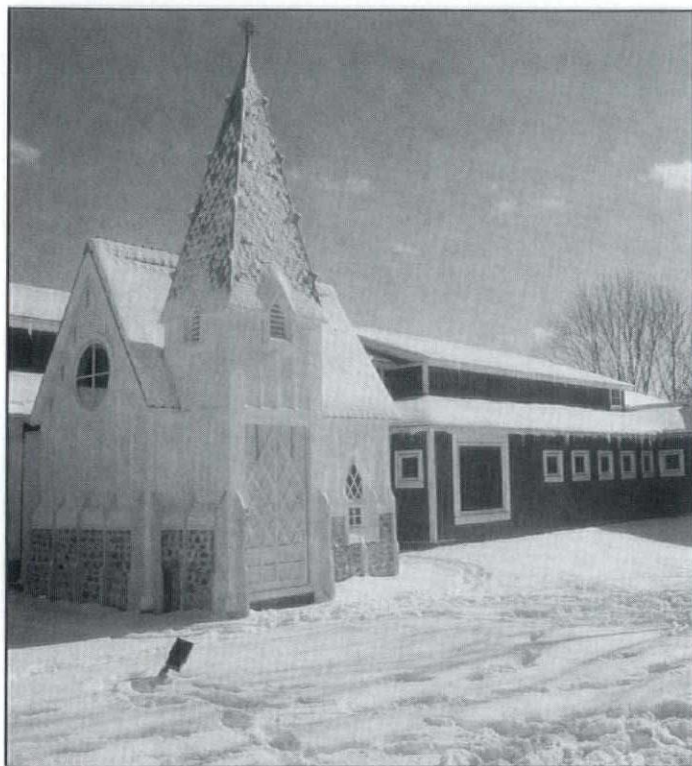

Architect: Rossetti Associates Architects
280 N. Woodward Ave., Suite 300
Birmingham, MI 48009

Project: Van Andel Arena
Grand Rapids, Michigan

"A large, complex building that settles well into its smaller scale urban context."

In Grand Rapids, Rossetti Associates Architects faced the challenge of creating an arena that wouldn't overwhelm its surrounding neighborhood or adjacent buildings. The Van Andel Arena, on the southern edge of the business district, does just that. Brick, glass and exposed steel work together to form an open and inviting appearance - welcome amidst the strong urban and industrial context. Excellence in steel design on this project is recognized by a 1997 Michigan Steel Award, presented by the Great Lakes Fabricators and Erectors (GLFE).

1997 Design Honor Awards

BUILDING AWARD CATEGORY

Design Architect: Uppgren Associates
24 Frank Lloyd Wright Dr., Ann Arbor, MI 48106

Project Architect: Mitchell and Mouat Architects
113 S. Fourth Ave., Ann Arbor, MI 48104

Project: Spiritus Sanctus Academy
Ann Arbor, Michigan

"The building seems thoroughly thought-out, well-executed, and an appropriate environment for an elementary school."

A rural site, bounded by woods and farm fields, is home to a multi-use academic complex whose design draws from agricultural vernacular; barns, sheds, silos and corrals and the interplay of these elements. The school's building forms complement a petting farm complex to the north and draws upon the strengths of agrarian image and organization; security, family and community for the campus. Although prominent when seen across the field, it is very much a background structure in context with the setting. Uppgren Associates were the design architects and Mitchell and Mouat Architects served as project architects on the Spiritus Sanctus Academy. The project and its architects are all located in Ann Arbor.

INTERIORS AWARD CATEGORY STEEL AWARD

Architect: Ronit Eisenbach, AIA
612 Lawrence St., Ann Arbor, MI 48104

Project: The Ronald Titus Digital Studio
Warren Loranger Architecture Building
at the University of Detroit Mercy
Detroit, Michigan

"Intelligent, disciplined and elegant in its planning, detailing and use of materials."

Thoughtful use of existing structure was key for two projects that took home awards in the Interiors Category. The Ronald F. Titus Digital Studio is the first phase of renovation of the University of Detroit Mercy School of Architecture. Ann Arbor Architect Ronit Eisenbach, AIA sought to uncover the building's original architectural details. This gave the students an opportunity to read the structural function and gain understanding of building infrastructure. In essence, the building itself enhances the school's academic objectives. This project is also recognized with a GLFE 1997 Michigan Steel Award.

INTERIORS AWARD

Architect: Victor Saroki & Associates Architects, PC
525 N. Woodward Ave., Birmingham, MI 48009

Project: Avalon Films
Farmington, Michigan

"Thoughtful insertion of new pieces and program making use of and giving value and significance to existing building from the 1940s. The play between new interventions and existing pieces is successful and admirable."

The other winner in the Interiors Category is Victor Saroki & Associates Architects PC, of Birmingham who renovated and transformed two existing buildings into design offices for a commercial film production company. Because of site constraints in downtown Farmington, the buildings could not be increased in size. Optimal use of existing space was essential, including creating new, usable space from an attic. The pair of buildings, dating from the 1940s, served originally as a soap factory. Refinished original wood plank flooring and steel gives testimony to the buildings' industrial heritage. This provides a dramatic surrounding for Avalon Films.

SMALL PROJECT AWARD

Architect: Seydler-Sweatt, Architects
32870 Brandingham
Franklin, MI 48025

Project: Residential Renovation
Franklin, Michigan

"Clever connection between the building, human activity and the landscape."

The Low Budget/Small Project Award recognizes that excellent design can be achieved within the constraints of small budget, scale and size. The influence of the site on the living spaces within this residence, as well as respect for the scale and character of the neighborhood were important objectives in Franklin architect Betty-Lee Seydler-Sweatt's renovation of a typical 1950s developer's ranch house. Seydler-Sweatt retained the character of the long low ranch elevation on the front of the house and created a dramatic connection between the building, its living space and the landscape.

AIA Michigan Firm Award

"There is a certain appeal to many in what is strange and what seems new to them. In architecture, to be worthy of a title, there must ever be dignity and good taste, neither acrobatics nor wild orgies. The architect's responsibility is indeed great and should prove a deterrent in erecting structures which at best are but an experiment, often proving a failure. We architects may build, in our own back yard, anything ugly and curious as we please, but we have no right to do that for clients who rely on us to create that which will withstand the test of time. Nor have we the right to impose the ugly though different upon the community." Albert Kahn (Md. Acad. Jour., p.122)

The Firm Award, first given in 1991, is made to an AIA Michigan firm that has consistently produced distinguished architecture for a period of at least 10 years. The jury is directed to focus on the quality of the firm's architecture and not on the principals of the firm. The Architecture Firm Award recipient may be nominated to the National Design Committee Architectural Firm Award.

1995 FIRM OF THE YEAR

ANGELL HALL
UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN
Ann Arbor
Albert Kahn, FAIA 1922

© Gary Quesada Korb/Hedrich-Blessing

ALBERT KAHN ASSOCIATES, INC. has a long and distinguished 100 year old history. The firm was founded in 1895 by nationally renowned architect Albert Kahn. Kahn revolutionized industrial building design in 1905 when he introduced reinforced concrete into Detroit's Packard Motor Car Company building. His design permitted unprecedented amounts of manufacturing space unobstructed by supporting columns.

This feat was a major turning point for the burgeoning automotive industry. This innovation cleared the way for Henry Ford's introduction of the moving assembly line to the industry a few years later. For Kahn, it ushered in a steady stream of commissions from the automotive industry.

Today, AKA's projects include all building types. They built over 15,000 projects worldwide, that represents $48 billion in construction costs. Their work can be seen in Canada, Mexico, South America, Australia, Japan, China, the former Soviet Union, South Africa, India and in several European countries.

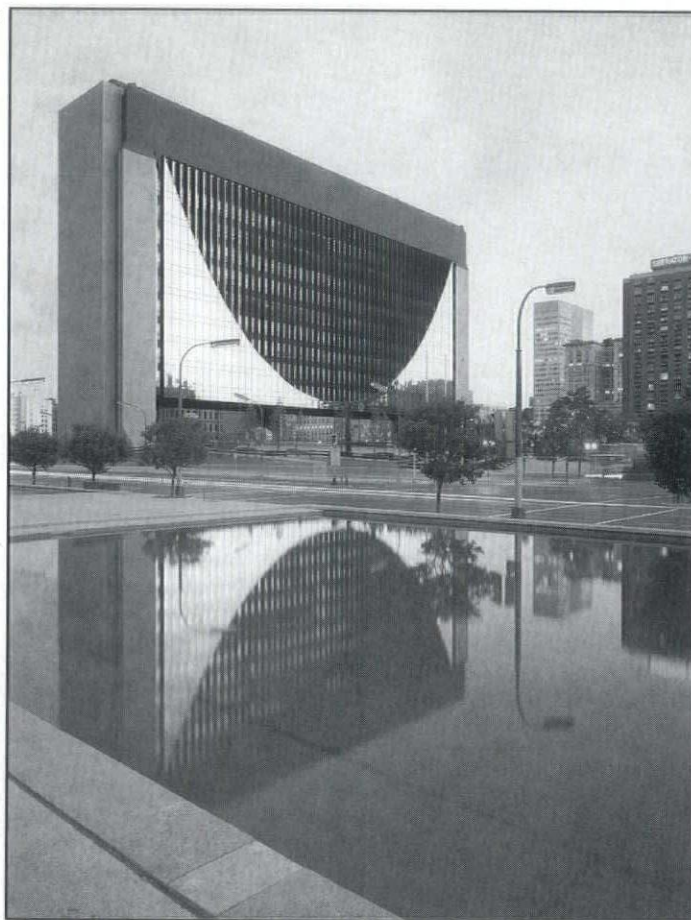

Kahn's architectural work goes beyond industrial design. Their projects have earned the firm numerous honors from governmental, civic and professional associations. Notable Detroit-area buildings include the General Motors and Fisher buildings in the New Center area; the Detroit Free Press; Detroit News; Detroit Athletic Club; Detroit Police Headquarters; the Belle Isle Aquarium and Conservatory; the National Theater; Gaulker Pointe, home of Edsel and Eleanor Ford in St. Clair Shores; and the George G. Booth house on the grounds of the Cranbrook Educational Community in Bloomfield Hills.

Recent local commissions include the Chrysler Technology Center's Powertrain Test Center Expansion, Comprehensive Health Services Plaza, the Wayne County Detroit Metropolitan Airport Parking Structure, U of M's Integrated Technology Instruction Center and Lansing Sparrow Hospital's Ambulatory Care Center and Medical Office Building. ▼

FEDERAL RESERVE BANK
Minneapolis
Gunnar Birkerts and Associates

GUNNAR BIRKERTS & ASSOCIATES

Birkerts and Associates have a consistent history of high quality work in a wide array of building types. The firm has a well deserved international reputation. Professional magazines and trade journals have featured and discussed the firm's projects in hundreds of articles. More than forty cover stories have been written. Three national AIA awards and fifty-five local, state and other national design awards confirm a distinguished record.

Birkerts innovative work is evidence that a small group of highly motivated creative minds can influence the course of contemporary architecture. The firm benefited from a progression of talented architects. Anthony Gholz, AIA of Troy and Kenneth Rohlfing, AIA of Birmingham, who have joined the firm as design architects in 1972 and 1973 respectively, have grown to leadership positions integral to the firm's operation and success. Associates Kevin Shultis, AIA of Birmingham and Mary Jane Williamson, both with more than fifteen years experience, direct the project teams.

A partial list of Gunnar Birkerts and Associates buildings in Michigan include: 1300 Lafayette East Apartments and the South Wing of the Detroit Institute of Arts in Detroit, U-M Law School addition and U of M Sports Facility in Ann Arbor, IBM Building in Southfield, Domino's Pizza Farms in Ann Arbor, and the Church of the Servant in Grand Rapids.

Gunnar Birkerts, FAIA and his staff received their honor at the 1996 AIA Michigan Honor Awards on October 5, 1996 in Lansing at the Michigan Library/Museum. ▼

1997 FIRM OF THE YEAR

CORVETTE MUSEUM
Southfield, MI
Neumann/Smith &
Associates, Inc.

NEUMANN/SMITH & ASSOCIATES, INC. of Southfield is the 1997 Firm of the Year. This award is made in recognition of the firm's commitment to the highest standards of design and practice. The firm has consistently produced distinguished architecture that has received worldwide recognition.

This 40-person architecture and interior design firm is led by principals Kenneth Neumann, FAIA and Joel Smith, AIA. Since it was formed in 1968, the firm has been dedicated to providing its varied clientele a balance of quality service while energetically endeavoring to create works of design excellence.

From an initial staff of four and a focus on office buildings for the development community, the firm has grown ten times. It has expanded its work to include a wide array of building types as well as interior design services. Understanding that quality people make quality architecture, the firm's principals have relied on senior associates Victor Muoz, AIA; Gene Carroll, RA; Richard Mysliwiec, RA; Patrick Macoska, RA; JoEllen Wilkinson and associates, Stephen Gedert, RA; Bert Koseck, AIA; Scott Bonney, AIA; Kathleen Buck, RA; Emil Sadao, RA and Dawn Black.

Neumann/Smith & Associates work has been recognized by 35 national, regional and local AIA awards; 15 from the Masonry Institute and AIA Michigan; eight Engineering Society of Detroit awards and 36 other national, regional and local awards. Winner of two national design competitions, the firm's work has been published in 80 magazines, trade publications and books.

A partial list of buildings in Michigan includes: FTD (Southfield); Pine Knob (Clarkston); UT Automotive Headquarters (Dearborn); City Centre Offices (Southfield); Galleria Officentre (Southfield); Kent County Correctional Facility (Grand Rapids); and Regent Court (Dearborn). ▼

WHAT IS AIA MICHIGAN?

In order to make this directory more useful for non architect readers and clients, we provide the following glossary:

- AIA Any architect who is currently entitled under state law to practice architecture is eligible to be an Architect member. Good standing in the profession and in the community shall be demonstrated. Architect members may use, in connection with their names and titles, "Architect Member of the American Institute of Architects."
- The acronym AIA is copyrighted and its specific use is limited to an individual architect member. This designation following the name means that the architect is a member in good standing of the American Institute of Architects.
- FAIA These initials signify that an individual architect has become a Fellow in the American Institute of Architects. It means that a jury of peers has examined the architect for extraordinary accomplishments and exceptional leadership.
- AIA-E The letter "E" stands for Emeritus and it signifies that an architect member has maintained membership for 15 years and has reached the age of 70; or, has reached the age of 60 and is retired; or, is incapacitated so as to be unable to work in the profession.
- Associate AIA Associate members are individuals without architectural license who meet any of the following requirements:
- Employed under the supervision of an architect in a professional or technical capacity, or
 - Faculty members in a university program in architecture, or
 - Are eligible by education or experience and are in circumstances recognized by licensing authorities as constituting credit toward architectural license, or
 - Have a professional degree in architecture, or
 - Have an architectural license or the equivalent from a non-licensing authority and demonstrates honorable standing in the profession in the local in which they are licensed. Such persons may be residents within or outside the U.S.
- PA Professional Affiliates are construction industry teammates such as mechanical, electrical and structural engineers, artists, planners, interior designers who complete the roster of a well-rounded professional organization.

(Editor's Note: Much of the information in the FIRM PROFILE was submitted by the individual firms listed. Although every effort was made to provide all the firms the opportunity to be listed correctly, AIA Michigan does not verify the accuracy of the information received. As in any directory of this size, errors may occur. To compound these inherent problems in directory creation, we were faced with an area code change for nearly half of the membership. Most of Oakland County, and portions of Washtenaw, Wayne, Macomb and Livingston changed from 810 to 248. We apologize for any typographical mistakes. We welcome written corrections and additions.)

Behind every issue of PLACE are PLACEMAKERS! But where are they located? Who do I call? What is their specialty? The editors of PLACE are happy, once again, to include the PLACEMAKERS DIRECTORY in this issue of PLACE magazine.

This easy to use directory features an alphabetical listing of firms with location, specialty of practice and a contact architect with whom to discuss your project. It is compiled as a resource for clients and other members of the building team in need of architectural service.

Participating firms are AIA Michigan members who support PLACE magazine with their projects, ideas and dollars. So take a look and find the firm best suited to your project! We are confident that it's there! For more information, don't hesitate to contact:

What to look for in Selecting Pews.

You're considering a major investment – in time and resources.

To help you, Sauder Manufacturing – the nation's leading manufacturer of church furniture—has assembled and published "The Pew Buyer's Handbook".

It's objective. It's informative. And it's educational. A must-have decision-making support for church buying committees.

"The Pew Buyer's Handbook" offers an in-depth look at the pew selection process:

How to Hire Your Architect

Finding a Qualified Architect

Selecting the best architect for your next project can be a confusing experience. Whether you are an individual building for the first time or part of a large organization that builds periodically you need reliable information.

To help ensure that the owners receive quality architectural services the Michigan Board of Architects examines, licenses, and regulates architects. All architects have a numbered seal that they must use to stamp drawings for issuance to local building authorities. The use of the title "architect" by an unlicensed person, or the use of an architect's seal to stamp drawings not made under his or her direct supervision are both illegal practices. To find out whether an architect is licensed to practice in Michigan or to report an illegal use of the title or seal one may call the State of Michigan, Board of Architects at 517-241-9253.

To get a license and the privilege to use the title "architect," Michigan architects will have completed a five-year degree in architectural studies. Many will have a Master of Architecture Degree. A three-year internship of diversified practical training then follows a candidate's education under the direct supervisory control of a practicing licensed architect. It is only then that they are eligible to take the Architectural Registration Exam. The letters "AIA" after the name means that this architect subscribes to a Code of Ethics. It is an architect that works to earn Continuing Education Credits to be up-to-date on the latest building technology.

AIA Michigan offers a guide to licensed architects who publicize their experience in specific building types. PLACEMAKERS can be helpful in establishing a list of architects to consider when sending out a request for information (RFI).

AIA Michigan also has a publication on Quality-based Selection (QBS) to guide owners through the selection process. A facilitator is available through QBS to work with you or your selection committee directly. Whether you plan to use the QBS procedure or your own selection process, the key is to develop definitive selection criteria.

Selecting Your Architect

Before selecting your architect you need to develop basic criteria specific to your project that are available for prospective architects. Basic requirements may include the following:

- 1) List of functions
- 2) Approximate size
- 3) Projected starting dates and occupancy dates
- 4) Anticipated project budget and financing
- 5) Required services from your architect.

Next you should request information and qualifications from several architects to evaluate your project. Successful projects result when clients and architects form cooperative professional business and often personal relationships. These relationships are formed early in the design process. Clear communications, mutually understood expectations, and a willingness of both client and architect to understand and accept their individual responsibilities are keys to a successful project.

A theme to rally around is the five C's: Chemistry, Capacity, Capability, Creativity, Commitment. The five C's focus on team resources, availability and relevant experience, design and technical skills and overall interest in your project.

Chemistry: Look at the architects specifically proposed for your project and see how well they have worked on similar projects. If you are dealing with just one architect for a smaller scale project, talk to other clients he or she has worked with to obtain information. If your project is larger and requires a team of architects, talk to the users of a previous project on which they have worked. You should also evaluate the data on the resume.

A second key aspect to consider is how well the architect or specific team will mesh with your culture and values. Are there techniques used by the architect that will simplify working relationship and decision making by you or within your organization?

Has the architect or team of architects worked with clients or organizations similar to yours? Whether you are the sole authority or your organization has a hierarchy of decision makers, the architects should be comfortable with your decision making structure.

Capacity: Once you are satisfied with the architect or team of architects are they available for your project? Every owner is concerned about the ability of the selected architect to deliver the project effectively within the desired schedule. The real test of this question is the depth of resources available to the architect or project team. Can they handle your project schedule and adjust to changes you may require without jeopardizing other project commitments? You need data on concurrent project schedules to make this evaluation.

Typically, architects are generalists and produce a great variety of projects. Has the architect delivered projects of similar size and complexity to your project?

Capability: Architectural firms come in many sizes and types. The average firm is made up of five to ten people. Many are smaller, with one or two people, and some are very large with many professionals on their staffs.

Evaluate the experience of the architect or team of architects on recently constructed similar projects. Were these projects delivered within the required time and cost restraints? Have they delivered these projects with the level of quality that meets your expectations?

Given the architects' experience on recent projects, are they able to solve issues specific to your project? Can the architect guide you or your organization through the design process and build a consensus with you and your key people?

Creativity: Design and construction is not a simple process. No two projects are alike, and each new building brings with it a unique mixture of needs, people, location and financing. Image, function, the user, technology, environment, construction phasing, operations and cost all influence the complexity of the problem.

The creative process is a very subjective response to a given set of requirements. Interviewing the specific architect designated for your project is wise. The architect will bring an independent and fresh look at your project and suggest creative ways of meeting your needs. Ingenuity in both design and technology is equally important. The architects' design approach, including analysis of alternatives, may provide key insights into the ability of the architect to come up with a creative solution to your problem.

Looking at the architects' past work and calling client references can also be very valuable. Take the time to evaluate past performances.

Ultimately your search may yield more than one very qualified architect that meets your criteria for selection. Final choice may hinge on how interested the architect is in your project. The most thoughtful architects are as careful in selecting their clients as clients should be in selecting their architects.

Commitment: Is this an architect that you can trust with your project? Has the firm committed a key principal to the project or are they just the interview team? Do they understand emerging trends that affect you or your business and can they incorporate key elements into your project? By the firm's location or by their demonstrated portfolio are they part of the fabric of the local or regional area? Do they understand community influences and concerns?

Careful evaluation of each architect should lead to an effective choice and eventually to the successful completion of your project.

We create livable communities one building at a time. An informed client and an innovative architect do a lot to insure the quality of the built environment. ▼

SOME OF OUR SHEET METAL INSTALLATIONS BRING THE COMPETITION TO ITS KNEES.

Take this custom copper roof at Detroit's St. Peter and St. Paul Cathedral.

Each 10-foot panel had to be individually shaped. It was a particular challenge to duplicate the profile of the existing cornice work, and to line the built-in gutters with copper.

The fact is, only a handful of companies could have done the job.

At T.F. Beck, we also install conventional low slope roofing and structural sheet metal roofs.

Not every job is as demanding as this one, but it's good to know the expertise is there if you need it.

The Cathedral's faith in us stemmed from our reputation as a 51-year-old family-owned company that takes pride in customer service. Other installations include Detroit's Renaissance Center, Romeo High School and the General Motors Tech Center.

Why not give us a call? We just might be the company you've been praying for.
